Association for Interreligious / Interfaith Studies

Join the Journal of Interreligious Studies and the Association for Interreligious/Interfaith Studies for a spring symposium on interreligious education—classroom-based and co-curricular—at the high school and undergraduate levels. Hear from practitioners, scholars, and students who will share best practices, pandemic-related insights, and ongoing questions and challenges. The symposium will include small group discussion (breakout rooms) to allow for more intimate conversation.
